HOUSES SMASHED IN NEAR TORNADO

Property of C. T. Bondurant and Ernest Johnson Damaged.

A hard twisting storm, amounting almost to a tornado, passed over the lower bottoms Friday night at about 9:30 p. m., almost in the path of the memorable tornado which passed through this section four years ago, when many were killed and injured as a result.

On the farm of C. T. Bondurant one tenant house was blown to pieces and two negroes were painfully injured. They were pinned under some pieces of timber, where they remained until aid reached them. Three barns on the same place were also badly damaged by the wind.

On the farm of Ernest Johnson, five tenant houses, all occupied, were blown off the blocks and twisted around, two of these being badly damaged. None of the occupants, who were all colored tenants, was hurt.

A high wind passed through the city at the same time but no material damage was reported, although many were frightened when the fearful havoc wrought four years ago came to their mind.

COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES.

The County Parent-Teachers' meeting at Cayce was a small but enthusiastic meeting. There were reports given of the work done in the schools represented. These, together with the music and excellent dinner furnished an interesting program. It was agreed that there should be an annual meeting of this kind. It was decided that early in October would probably be a more suitable time but that it would be difficult to find a more suitable place than Cayce.

The F. D. E. A. meets at Paducah November 25 and 26. All teachers attending are reminded to get receipts for railroad tickets.

HARDIN LOCKE CONVICTED AT TIPTONVILLE FRIDAY

Hardin Locke is doubtless wondering how it all happened, and maybe trying to discover the why and wherefore of a three-year penitentiary sentence imposed on him.

Mr. Locke, with his wife and four children, lived peacefully and happily in a Missouri town. That is, Mr. Locke was peaceful and contented, but it appears that his wife wasn't. The children didn't say.

At Locke's trial testimony was introduced that was something like this in effect.

Mrs. Locke decided to move back to Tennessee. Mr. Locke didn't want to come back. But Mrs. Locke's will prevailed and the furniture and household goods were sold.

Mr. Locke is said to have followed his wife and children to the river, begging them not to go. His pleas were unavailing and Mrs. Locke came back to the Volunteer State. Shortly thereafter Mr. Locke also returned.

Then he was arrested on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging desertion. He was tried Friday.

After the taking of testimony was completed it was the general consensus of opinion that the defendant would be freed. General surprise was expressed when he was declared guilty. Mr. Locke was also rather surprised.

SNOW IN MONTANA.

More snow fell during the present storm in Montana than in any other November for 25 years says a dispatch from Helena, Mont., according to the weather bureau there. Up to 6 o'clock Tuesday the snowfall since Saturday afternoon had reached 13 inches. Continued snow and cold is the forecast. All passenger trains were delayed from one to three hours.

For a Church Supper.

When taking out food in dishes or tins to church dinners and suppers or to your neighbors, try writing your name on a piece of adhesive plaster and stick it onto the dish or tin, and you will find that you will have no more trouble in losing your dishes, as it will not be washed off easily.

SPECIAL SERVICES THANKSGIVING DAY

Will be Held at First Methodist Church Thursday Morning.

Special services will be held as a part of the annual observance of Thanksgiving Day Thursday. A special program of music is being arranged for the service which will be held at the First Methodist Church.

The sermon this year will be preached by the Rev. A. S. Pettie, pastor of the First Baptist Church, who will be assisted in conducting the services by the pastors of the other churches of the city.

The service starts Thursday morning at 10:30, and a special invitation is extended to everyone to come and take part in the Thanksgiving worship.

NEED A GOOD MAN.

Speculations are rife as to the probable man to draw the assignment from Governor Morrow to the office of Magistrate in District No. 3. Several men have been mentioned as likely to get the appointment, and two or three good men are being talked.

The people of that district should keep in mind that to them and their interests this officer of the fiscal court is the most important in the county. Hence they should be exceedingly careful in whom they promote for appointment to that post. Of course, any man they may select to push for appointment might not succeed in getting the appointment from the Republican governor, but certainly the governor will not appoint one whom he knows to be against the wishes of the best people of the district.

BILL WILL MAKE JOBS FOR 50,000

Project $150,000,000 Will be Expended on Highways.

A dispatch from Washington says: Fifty thousand idle men will get work through the passage of the good roads bill appropriating $75,000,000 in state-aid road buildings funds, it was predicted at headquarters of the National Unemployment Conference.

Although the measure carried $75,000,000, twice that much money will actually be turned loose on road projects as the states must match the allotments made to them by the government. One-third of the money is available for immediate work and the remainder can be paid after July 1, 1922.

Enactment of the roads bill was urged by the Unemployment Conference as one of the best plans that could be taken to better labor conditions. State allotments under the bill follow:

Alabama	$1,553,420.67
Arkansas	1,254,142.20
Florida	886,825.69
Illinois	3,246,284.07
Indiana	1,417,175.88
Kentucky	1,204,096.22
Mississippi	2,448,128.62
Missouri	1,709,333.90
North Carolina	1,752,339.44
Oklahoma	1,061,237.34
South Carolina	1,647,092.24
Tennessee	1,647,092.24
Texas	4,425,172.41

The bill also appropriated $15,000,000 for the improvement of national forest roads.

The federal highway act just passed, in a general way resembles the federal aid act of 1916, but contains several new features. Administration of the act by the secretary of agriculture, and under him the bureau of public roads, remains unchanged.

Appointment of the fund to the states is almost the same as in the previous act, the fund being divided into three parts, one part apportioned according to population, one according to area and one according to mileage of rural and star mail routes. A new feature in the stipulation that no state shall receive less than one-half of one per cent of the total fund, which, in this case, amounts to $245,524. This stipulation will increase the amount received by four of the smaller states, Delaware, New Hampshire, Rhode Island and Vermont.

MANY MORE ATTEND TRACHOMA CLINIC

Second of Clinics Held Tuesday at the City Hall.

Dr. McMullin, with his corps of assistants, conducted the second trachoma clinics here Tuesday. A large number of children were brought to him for examination of their eyes and many of them were found to be in serious condition. The number of patients has taxed the capacity of those in charge of the clinic, beginning early Tuesday morning.

It will be remembered that the first trachoma clinic held here some time ago was taken advantage of by many who feared that they or their children had afflicted eyes. The number who came to the clinic Tuesday was very encouraging to the health authorities, when it is remembered that such a large number of children were treated during the first clinic.

Dr. McCormick, state health officer, was also here during the day coming with Dr. McMullin.

MANY USES FOR GIANT KELP

Among Others, Sea Plant Lends itself Excellently to the Making of "Hootch."

The aboriginal natives of British Columbia and Alaska can always get a suitable worm for distilling by picking it out of the sea. It is furnished by the hollow stem of the giant kelp, and serves excellently for the making of "hootch" from a mixture of molasses and graham flour. The giant kelp is anchored to the rocky bottom by a root-like holdfast, from which springs a stem that is sometimes 100 feet long. This stem is hollow for the upper half of its length, and terminates in a big bladder-like bulb from which, as it floats on the surface, fronds 50 feet long branch out. The plant grows from spores and is an annual. One variety is called "sea otter's cabbage," and is very plentiful in the region of Puget sound. Another, commonly known as "sea pumpkin," flourishes nearly as far south as San Diego bay. Bulbs of the giant kelp are used in the Puget sound region as bottles to hold fish oil and by fishermen as bathholders. The Eskimos utilize the hollow stem as a siphon to empty water out of their kayaks, which, being decked over, are not easily baled in the ordinary way. Also from sections of the stem they make wheels for toy wagons.

R. L. Bradley and Herman Bradley were in Paducah the first of the week attending U. S. District Court.

REELFOOT LAKE UP.

The water in Reelfoot Lake has been raised from 16 to 18 inches, according to various estimates, by the recent hard rains, and hunters are now able to make a passage in many parts of the lake which recently they could not get to. Although the number of ducks there is not up to that of recent years, hunters say that the ducks that are there are saved away by the multitude of hunters, many of whom will fire at the ducks from impossible distances just as they are starting to decoy, which renders the chance for a good shot at one of the wary birds almost nil. The amount of the raise in the lake, however, is surprising, as none of the predictions placed the raise at anything near the amount which the rains caused.

RARE PLOT TO VICTIMIZE SLAIN SOLDIER'S MOTHER

Investigation has failed to reveal that John Will Crice of Wickliffe who is reported officially by the government to have been killed in action at the battle of Argonne, is now alive and in prison in Huntington, W. Va. Through letters it is believed that a crude attempt was made to extract $350 from Crice's mother, Mrs. Sallie Crice, under the pretense that her son was in prison.

For several weeks Mrs. Crice has been in correspondence with a person signing the name of "H. L. Rogers," who contends that Crice is in prison and that he could be released upon the payment of money. A letter in the same handwriting and bearing the signature of "Capt. Sanders" attempted to verify Rogers' claim. A registered letter supposed to contain the money was forwarded to Huntington last week and an attorney, with postal officials maintained a watch. The letter was unclaimed. Willie Brack, a companion of Crice was in service with him and witnessed his death.

ELVIS JACKSON GETS $150 FINE

Convicted on Charge of Giving Whiskey to Schoolchildren.

Elvis Jackson, local taxicab driver, was convicted Friday in Judge Stahr's court, on a charge of giving intoxicating liquor to schoolchildren. He was tried on three counts and was fined $50 on each.

The prosecution presented evidence to show that several weeks ago the defendant took three of the members of the High School football team to Water Valley for a game, and that while on the way over he gave each a drink of some whiskey he had with him. This happened near Cayce in this county. The names of the boys to whom the whiskey was given are not given owing to their age.

Judge Stahr found the defendant guilty and placed the fines amounting to $150 on him, for which he made bond. The defendant was represented by Attorney R. O. Hester.

DEATH VICTOR OVER ALLEN IN STRUGGLE

Lingering for nearly three months with his spinal cord held together by a thread, John Allen, 50 years old, died at his home Monday afternoon of last week at 3:30 o'clock in Marshall County, near Scale. Allen made one of the most remarkable fights for life in medical history, and not until a few weeks ago did he agree with his physicians that death was inevitable. Since the shot Allen had been paralyzed below the waist, and practically helpless.

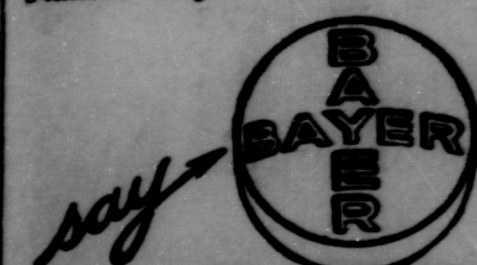

Fred English, who fired the fatal shot following a melee on "the square" in Benton on the afternoon of August 2, was brought to Paducah by Sheriff Pete Egner and placed in the MeCracken county jail. Since a few days after the shooting, English has been on bond. Thirty minutes after the death of Allen, Sheriff Egner arrested English on a charge of murder. English was found on his farm less than a mile from the Allen farm. He was unaware of the death of Allen.

English was carried to Paducah as a precaution of safety. He is in bad health and the Marshall county jail at Benton is both unsanitary and unsafe. His examining trial has been set for Friday before County Judge Myre at Benton. Owing to the condition of English's health it is likely that his attorneys will seek bail on the murder charge.

Allen's condition has been regarded as hopeless since surgeons performed an operation a few hours after the shooting. The spinal cord was shattered at the third dorsal vertebra. With remarkable resistance Allen announced that he would recover. Gradually, however, his remarkable strength was wasted away.

Homer Byrd and little daughter, A. J. Byrd, who burned to death at their home in Drumwright, Okla., and whose bodies were brought back to Mayfield for burial, were formerly citizens of Hickman and well known to many people here. They resided in West Hickman. Mrs. Byrd was also horribly burned, the affair happening when an exploding can of gasoline was thrown into the yard falling on the child, the father attempting to save her and the mother trying to save them both. Their former home was at Mayfield, moving to Hickman from there and they moved from here to Drumwright, Okla., where they had since resided. The paper stated it was a little son that burned but it was their little daughter.

Kissing Time and Christmas Time

By GENEVIEVE ULMAR

"WELL!" Mrs. Nancy Blair uttered the word in a profound gasp of bewilderment. For the first time in twenty years her husband, Alvin, had kissed her. His face took on a sudden flush of color, showing that his strangely unusual act had moved her to the depths.

"It's the Christmas spirit," flattered Nancy, but she was wrong, and stood staring after the man, she had taken as a life partner because she had truly loved him.

"What in the world does that mean?" she murmured.

But Alvin was gone, as if half-shamed at his impulsiveness and hurried to his wagon outside.

"Kissing time!" he soliloquized, and aptly, it transpired. "I couldn't help it. Poor dear! She seemed to prize that first token of romance of the dull plodding years."

Alvin hummed an old love song that took him back to the early days of courtship. He slowed up the horses as he peered through the leafless trees of a grove near the road. Then he chuckled as he caught sight of a slim, girlish figure and a companion. She was Luella Morse, the daughter of a neighbor, and beside her was his own handsome, stalwart son, Noble Blair. They stood near together, fairly face to face, and their attitude betokened acknowledged lovers.

"This will give Nancy a genuine surprise," ruminated Alvin. "Well now, look at that—more surprising still!"

This time, near the dairy barn, Alvin noticed his hired man, Alan Dayton, conversing with Marty Remick, and then he kissed her. Alvin thought of how his wife had feared that the helpful, dependable Dayton would soon leave for his home in the next county.

"He will stay and they will marry," declared Alvin, "and I will be glad to let them have the little cottage, for it solves the farm management. Oh, this golden kissing time! He bent his ear attentively as the echo of music reached him from the direction of the house."

"The old organ, cracked, broken, pretty well out of commission," he said reminiscently. "And Nancy so enjoys music. If it takes the last cent I've got she shall have a Christmas present worth having," and the memory of the kiss and the holiday tinge to everything about the business and tion of the town influenced an hour of brisk, practical shopping. Then Alvin started homeward; back in the wagon, cased up, was a fine victrola.

He found Nancy strangely excited when he went into the evening meal. More than once her hand went secretly to her dress pocket which held a precious letter she had received that day. Then she began speaking of their daughter Elsa, who had eloped two years ago with Ronald Bruce.

"Alvin, I have heard from Elsa. They are longing to pay us a visit."

"They?" repeated Alvin, a deep frown crossing his face.

"Yes, Oh, Alvin, don't be pitiless! I have heard grand news. Ronald has steadied down. Elsa is so happy. Can't they come?"

"I shall not exactly abuse them," he uttered, "but it will not be pleasant to think they ran away."

"To mend it again, for oh, Alvin! they love the old home, and you and me. They will be here tomorrow ready for Christmas and your blessing."

He came into the house just after dusk the next evening and from the parlor proceeded strains of music that told that Nancy was already enjoying the victrola. Then in the darkened hall Alvin stumbled over a baby carriage and then—

"Oh, Alvin, is that you?" cried out Nancy joyously.

He entered the parlor. It was to stand transfixed as Nancy held towards him a smiling, happy-eyed little child who put her baby arms about his neck and then kissed him.

"Your present, Alvin," spoke Nancy in a quiver of delight. "Their baby, only a year old—ours—" and Alvin pressed the little treasure to his heart and forgot all the past.

It was a royal Christmas eve and Noble and his fiancée, and even Dayton and Marty were present at a celebration that made kissing time and Christmas time the happiest occasion of their lives.

United After Many Years

Many years ago a Wesleyan Methodist minister living in the north of England had among his congregation two young people who were engaged to be married. Differences arose and the engagement was broken off and each married some one else. The minister left the district three years later and heard no more of the couple for nearly 25 years. He was returning home then from a journey and met another minister who told him he had just officiated at a wedding of the lovers that the first minister had known in Cumberland. They had both become widowed; the woman had become the mother of 21 children and the man the father of 19. Every one of the 40 children were present at the ceremony and reception of their parents.

103,493 MOTOR CARS IN KENTUCKY

Registration and License Revenues Amounted to $1,672,587 July 1.

From January 1 to July 1, this year, there were 103,493 motor vehicles registered in Kentucky, according to report to the Bureau of Public Roads. Twenty-six states reported a larger number of registrations.

Of the total number of registrations 94,414 were for passenger cars and 9,079 were for trucks and commercial cars. Besides these figures, which include only automobiles, 1,034 motor cycles were registered. The number of owners and chauffeurs license issued in Kentucky during this period was 7,680, and the number of manufacturers and dealers licenses issued was 700.

Total gross motor vehicles registration and license revenues in Kentucky from January 1 to July 1 amounted to $1,672,587.25.

Indigestion

Many persons, otherwise vigorous and healthy, are bothered occasionally with indigestion. The effects of a disordered stomach on the system are dangerous, and prompt treatment of indigestion is important. "The only medicine I have needed has been something to aid digestion and clean the liver," writes Mr. Fred Ashby, a McKinney, Texas, farmer. "My medicine is for indigestion and stomach trouble of any kind. I have never found anything that touches the spot, like Black-Draught. I take it in broken doses after meals. For a long time I tried pills, which griped and didn't give the good results. Black-Draught liver medicine is easy to take, easy to keep, inexpensive."

Theford's

HYDROPLANE LANDS HERE SATURDAY

Injured in High Wind Near Here and Forced to Land.

A hydroplane, belonging to the Triangle Airways, Incorporated, Chicago, landed here Saturday. It and another one which did not land, were en route from Chicago to New Orleans for the purpose of paving a way for the establishment of regular lines at points on the Mississippi River from St. Louis south to carry light freight and express.

According to Alfred Wolff, advance agent for the company in Memphis, if the business men along the line take to the proposition several planes will be placed in service from Cairo south, enabling merchants to make quick shipments to points on the river, and, by land planes, to interior towns as well. The company owns several planes with a capacity of three tons of freight each, and if the proposition as planned is successful, land plane routes will be established as feeders from interior towns to the line that may operate on the river.

The two scout ships were the DeSoto and the Isle de Luzon, the latter having landed here for repairs. They started from Chicago and made the trip down the Illinois River to St. Louis, and down the Mississippi to Cairo, where a stop was made. The DeSoto was uninjured in the storm, but the Isle de Luzon was driven onto a mud bank and sprung a leak. The damage was not serious and was soon repaired, and after a short delay here they moved on to Memphis, where they planned to spend several days.

On the hydroplanes were Capt. and Mrs. P. A. Townsend, Dick Peers, W. S. Kelly, R. R. Clark, Dick Ramble, George Benedict, passenger agent of the line and W. Otis Colvin.

NEW REGISTRATION IS TO BE TRIED

Provisions for a statewide registration law, under which the voter will be registered for life if he continues to live in the same precinct, are to be incorporated in a measure which will be submitted at the next session of the Legislature at Frankfort.

The proposed measure is aimed at the correction of certain abuses of the election laws which have become manifest during the last few years. It is believed that a law containing the proposed features will go far toward elimination of repeaters and the practice of running up an abnormal vote in certain counties in close contests.

Some of the distinctive features of the proposed measure provide for registration in every county in the state, a lifetime registration and improved methods of purgation and supplemental registration.

Registration in the rural sections of Kentucky will be a new development and would meet with considerable opposition if the voters were required to register each year. Party leaders will seek to overcome this hostility by providing that one registration will last a lifetime if the voter remains in the precinct.

The measure will provide that the voter may register any time before the county clerk of his county. This feature will remove the hardship of an annual registration on the voters in country districts.

"SMALL TALK" IS IMPORTANT

Well Worth Cultivating by Those to Whom Its Possession Has Been Denied.

The man who is a failure at small talk never quite hears what the girl he is talking to has to say. He is trying to think what he is going to say next, so of course he cannot fail to misunderstand what the girl he is talking to says. He is headless, abstracted, worried and has a way of listening to the conversation of others rather than to those at hand.

The girl whom men regard as a good talker is always ready with a laugh, and the girl who laughs well is always popular. One can excuse the girl who giggles if she giggles in a way that makes others merry and seems to tell those with whom she talks that they are entertaining her immensely, that their stories are deliciously funny—though they may be very stupid—and that on the whole she is enjoying herself and her companions enormously.

"How should a man start the conversation at a dance?" is a frequent query. There are 1,000 ways and almost any way is a good way providing it is prompt and whole minutes of agonizing silence do not slip before anything is said. Little personal remarks that are not impertinent are sure to win a girl's attention.

"I was impatient for this dance," says the popular man to the girl dressed in old rose, whom he has met for the first time that night, "because I always find that I get along famously with girls that wear pink. I can tell a lot about a girl by the colors she likes to wear."

The man who never seems to know what to say to a woman would say something like this: "I knew I had this dance with a girl in pink, but there are so many girls in pink here, and they all look alike to me so I was afraid I would ask the wrong girl."

POULTRY

NO BEST BREED OF POULTRY

There Are Three Classes Specially Adapted to Production of Eggs and Meat.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

There is no best breed of poultry. That, at least, is the opinion of men in the United States Department of Agriculture who have been studying the business for years, and have had experience with all varieties of all breeds in America. To go among your friends and ask for advice about the kind of chickens to start with would be about as productive of conflicting views as if you asked for help in buying a motor car or a typewriter. Every man has his likings, and some have good reasons for them, but in the end the beginner will have to be the judge; wherefore the opinion of the department specialists will be about the best guide. Keep only one variety of breed, and select the breed that suits your purpose best. Be sure of one thing—have a standardbred male at the head of the flock. Such a bird will improve the quality of the stock materially. A mongrel male will produce no improvement.

These are the reasons: Standard-bred fowls produce uniform products which bring higher prices.

Standardbred stock and eggs sold for breeding purposes, bring higher prices than market quotations.

Standardbred fowls can be exhibited, and thus compete for prizes.

Eggs and stock from mongrel fowls are not sold for breeding purposes.

Mongrel fowls are not exhibited in poultry shows or exhibitions.

General-purpose breeds are best suited to most farms where the production of both eggs and meat is desired. The four most popular representatives of this class are the Plymouth Rock, Wyandotte, Orpington, and Rhode Island Red.

All these breeds, with the exception of the Orpington, are of American origin. They are characterized by having yellow skin and legs, and lay brown-shelled eggs. The Orpington is of English origin, has a white skin, and also lays brown-shelled eggs. You can get a detailed description of all fowls of American origin in Farmers' Bulletin 896 on "Standard Varieties of Chickens. I. The American Class," which may be had upon application to the Division of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture.

The Mediterranean or egg breeds are best suited for the production of white-shelled eggs. Representatives of this class are bred largely for eggs rather than for meat. Among the popular breeds are Leghorn, Minorca, Ancona and Andalusian.

An outstanding characteristic of the egg breeds is the fact that they are classed as nonsitters; that is, as a rule they do not become broody and hatch their eggs. When fowls of this class are kept, artificial incubation and brooding usually are employed. Farmers' Bulletin 898, "Standard Varieties of Chickens. II. The Mediterranean Class," tells about this class.

Lanshans, Brahmas, Cochins, and Cornish fowls belong in the meat breeds, rather than for eggs, and although classed for meat are sometimes kept as general-purpose fowls. They are all heavier and larger than the egg breeds, or those of the general-purpose class, and lay brown-shelled eggs. Farmers' Bulletin 1052, "Standard Varieties of Chickens. III. Asiatic, English, and French Classes" describes the breeds in this class.

Fowls for breeding purposes should be strong, healthy, vigorous birds. The comb, face, and wattles should be a bright red, eyes bright and fairly prominent, head comparatively broad, short, and not long or crow-shaped; legs set well apart and straight, plumage clean and smooth.

The beginner in poultry will be careful to have a home ready for his flock before he gets it. Farmers' Bulletin 889 contains suggestions, plans, and directions every poultry keeper should have. The Division of Publications will send it upon request.

If your child eats ravenously at times and at other times has no appetite at all, look out for worms. White's Cream Vermifuge is the remedy to use. It clears them out. Price, 35c. Sold by Hickman Drug Co.

EVERYDAY GOOD THINGS.

A good custard pie well made and baked is a dessert which it is hard to equal. It is not necessary to use four eggs to a pie nor are three indispensable — two eggs with a tablespoonful of flour mixed with the sugar will make a very good custard. If one desires a richer custard, three eggs may be used.

Coffee Custard.—To three slightly beaten eggs add one-half cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a teaspoonful of salt, one cupful of strong coffee and a cupful of cream. Strain into cups, set in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until firm. Serve cold with.

Caramel Sauce.—Melt one-half cupful of sugar in a smooth one-ounce pan, stirring constantly. When melted add one-half cupful of boiling water and simmer until the sugar is dissolved.

Potato Timbale.—Spread a pan thickly with butter, then cover with fine dry crumbs, roll beaten egg lightly all over the surface, then dust with crumbs again. Fill the pan with hot mashed potato, seasoned highly with salt, pepper and butter, onion juice with cream and two egg yolks to each pint of potato. Bake thirty minutes in a moderately hot oven. Invert on a hot platter and let stand ten minutes before removing the mold.

Tomato Sauce.—Brown one-fourth of a cupful of butter, add five tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well mixed. Add one and one-half cupfuls of brown stock and the same amount of stewed and strained tomato, one large slice each of carrot and onion finely chopped, a small bit of bay leaf, a sprig of parsley, four cloves, three-fourths of a teaspoonful of salt, pepper and tabasco sauce to taste. Cook twenty minutes and pour over the croquettes when ready to serve.

Popovers.—Beat one egg until light, add one cupful of milk to the beaten yolk, then stir in one cupful of flour and fold in the egg white with one-eighth of a teaspoonful of salt. Bake in deep granite or crockery cups, well greased. This recipe makes seven popovers which should bake about 40 minutes in an oven hot enough to bake bread.

OLD AND NEW CHRISTMAS DAY

Nobody Has Been Able to Decide Whether January 6 or December 25 Is Correct Date.

CHRISTMAS day seems wedded to December 25. A summer or a springtime Christmas, with no holly, no mistletoe, no frost, no snow, would not be the real thing at all, observes London Answers.

The majority of our beautiful Christmas carols, too, redolent as they are of the winter—"Sung Amid the Winter's Snow"—would be hopelessly incongruous. Emigrants to Australia from the mother country have confessed that it has taken them many years before they could "get in any way used to what is practically a mid-summer Christmas."

Yet December 25 is merely an accommodation date for the birthday of Christ—Christmas day. The year, too, is wrong. Most people would take it for granted that Christ was born in A. D. 1—literally, of course, the year of our Lord, No. 1.

But our chronology is four years out. This should be 1925 and not 1921, because Christmas day could not, on indisputable historical testimony, have been later than February B. C. 4!

That settles the year of the first Christmas, but all attempts to fix the actual day and month of Christmas have failed.

And, as regards the present date, Christmas, like Easter, took some centuries before a settlement was arrived at. In the first centuries of Christianity several important Eastern churches observed January 6 as Christmas day. The Armenian Christians do so still.

Gradually, however, uniformity was attained, but not before the Fifth century. In that connection it must be remembered that for quite a long period this country was divided on the question of Christmas. Some people persisted in observing "old" Christmas day.

But all will agree that December 25, even if it is not the actual date of Christ's birth, is a happy choice.

Our present-day Christmas, festival and holiday, breaks the long winter, and what better time could there be for family reunions? The cold and unpleasantness outside make it all the more agreeable to keep warm and snug inside. It keeps us together in every sense.

NOTED SEA GIANT OBSOLETE

Famous British Battleship That Blocked Kaiser's Ambitions Will Be Scrapped.

It was announced by the British admiralty on June 1 that the old battleship Dreadnaught, first of a famous class, was to be broken up. The admiralty has sold the once mighty vessel, which blocked all the Kaiser's naval ambitions, together with over 100 other obsolete battleships, cruisers, monitors, destroyers and torpedo boats, says Current History.

Launched on February 2, 1906, with her ten 12-inch guns, her complete armored belt and her speed of 21 knots, she not only made the rest of the British fleet obsolete, but also the rapidly growing fleet on which the Germans were building their hopes.

The Dreadnaught meant that the Kiel canal had to be widened, the locks enlarged and the docks rebuilt. German time and money that might have been spent on constructive work were wasted on mere alterations.

Though the design was varied, every capital ship laid down by every country since then has been built on the all-big-gun model of the Dreadnaught. The new battleship type, initiated by the late Lord Fisher, was a stroke of genius.

When the great conflict began in 1914, Great Britain held an unquestioned advantage on the sea. And now, only 15 years after King Edward VIII launched the great vessel at Portsmouth, with Lord Fisher standing at his side, the Dreadnaught goes to the scrap heap, hopelessly obsolete. Such is the speed of naval progress; sic transit gloria. The advocates of a naval holiday—a period of lessened activity in battleship building—have here an argument on their side.

Plans for Malaysia.

In Borneo there is still head-hunting and one finds there the lowest levels of savagery known on the earth. Almost 100 per cent of the millions of Java are illiterate. Their women are inexpressibly debased. A circle around Singapore with a radius of 1,200 miles would take in a population of over 60,000,000, yet in that area there is not one school of college grade. The Methodist centenary provides for such a college. The Dutch government has promised three dollars out of every four needed to build a chain of Christian hospitals in Java, Sumatra and West Borneo. Ten of these hospitals are provided for in the centenary promises, and one of them has been built.

CALDWELL GETS PEN SENTENCE

Convicted of Forgery in U. S. District Court at Paducah.

Sandy Caldwell, a negro from about seven miles west of Hickman, was convicted in the United States District Court meeting at Paducah of forgery the first of the week. He was convicted on all eight counts on which he was tried.

Caldwell began his dealings in "high finance" along in September, 1919, and kept on without detection until sometime in February 1921. George Caldwell, another negro living in the flower bottom and a step-brother of Sandy's received monthly checks from the government as compensation, having had an affection of the eyes while in the army. These checks at first amounted to $300 a month, but were gradually reduced until he received a monthly check of $28. George had a box rented at the postoffice and Sandy knew the combination, so he got the checks from the box and cashed them. Funds in Hickman who were victims of Sandy's scheme were the Farmers & Merchants Bank, the Hickman Bank & Trust Co., R. L. Bradley, L. Goldberg and Sullivan Bros., all of them cashing checks amounting in the aggregate to something like $800, and divided among eight checks. He was convicted on all eight counts and sent to the federal penitentiary at Atlanta.

The ingenious way in which he was first caught is noteworthy. Being apprised at the postoffice that the checks were being cashed by the wrong person, a trap was laid for the culprit. One end of a string was tied to a letter for George Stanback containing a check and the other end of the string was tied to a tin can. The can was placed on a table, and when Sandy took the letter from the box the can was jerked from the table, whereupon Marshall McDaniel and David Oliver, two of the postal clerks ran out opposite doors and closed in on their prisoner.

George complained to the compensation authorities that he was not receiving his checks and they sent him evidence that they were being sent. Sandy, however, got all the letters from them so that George thought he had not received an answer to his complaints. One of the letters contained a photograph of one of the checks sent George and Sandy secured this and tried to cash the photographed check at R. L. Bradley's. He met with no success on this venture, however. A secret service man was sent here, who with the aid of the postal authorities here succeeded in landing Sandy in the manner told above.

The following were summoned to Paducah the first of the week as witnesses in the case: Marshall McDaniel, David Oliver, Russell Johnson, R. L. Bradley and Herman Bradley.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a general strengthening tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or die the worms, and the child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 60c per bottle.

BOTH AMENDMENTS DEFEATED.

Returns from five counties received at the office of the secretary of state at Frankfort, Saturday brought the total which have reported on the constitutional amendments to 82 and the vote to the following figures:
Amendment No. 1—Yes, 45,388; no, 90,359.
Amendment No. 2—Yes, 52,205; no, 85,698.

The Hickman team has had very little practice and really did not know the rules of the game. They hope to do better next time. All report a fine time even if they were defeated.

If your child eats ravenously at times and at other times has no appetite at all, look out for worms. White's Cream Vermifuge is the remedy to use. It clears them out. Price, 35c. Sold by Hickman Drug Co.

DESPAIR LURKS IN WEAK BLOOD

Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the Blood-Builder Arouses Dull Faculties.

Many a man and many a woman feels all out of sorts from thin, weakened blood. The least little thing gone wrong throws them into a wild form of despondency. Instead of bracing up and meeting ordinary difficulties, they are drowned. Nerves are on edge. Appetite lags. Sleep is restless. They are weak and tired and dull. Poor blood works its havoc till the will loses its power. Few people who fall into habits of worry and despondency realize that most of their troubles are due to lack of endurance—to blood that has become weakened by overwork or strain.

Healthy men and women with rich, red blood see things brightly. They tackle life with zest and go along smilingly full of eagerness and endurance.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken steadily restores the blood to its natural richness. It actually makes red corpuscles, the tiny particles in blood which make it red. Druggists have Gude's Pepto-Mangan in liquid and tablet form.

SPORT COAT HAS CALL IN FRANCE

Paris Dressmakers Are Busy on Garments Which Are Done in Bold Designs.

All of the Paris dressmakers are now very busy on automobile and sport coats, writes a fashion correspondent. The Parisienne is going in for sports as never before. Golf clubs near Paris are the center of great social activity. La Bouille, which is near Versailles, and St. Cloud, so near Paris, are daily rendezvous for the smart set. Chantilly and Fontainebleau, both of which have interesting golf courses, are favorite resorts for week-ends, and thus the sport coat has come to be an essential part of the Frenchwoman's wardrobe. Consequently designers have given it much attention. Dressmakers who had the forethought to anticipate this demand are now reaping a harvest.

Madeleine et Madeleine are going especially well with their models, "Dans le Train" and "Sport." Both of these are eminently suitable for the uses which their names imply. Both are developed in very smart looking tissues from Rodier, who has the best novelties woven in the loudest of patterns and yet conforming to good taste and refinement. They are most characteristic of this great French manufacturer.

Vivid Colorings in Sport Coats. The features of these new coats which impress one most forcibly are the colors and bold designs of the fabrics. The materials themselves make such a strong appeal and are so suggestive of out-of-doors that few women can resist them. The colors are very gay. There is a strong tendency toward black and red combinations—the dull, rusty reds enlivened here and there with a brighter shade of the same color, sometimes running into scarlet.

One can imagine nothing more enchanting than the warm yellow, vivid greens and the lovely cool grays of these fabrics broken with stripes and borders in black woven at just the right intervals to produce a striking effect. The clever manner in which dressmakers and tailors are handling these bold-patterned novelties plays no small part in the successful vogue of coats made from them.

In outline the coats show little that is new. They are all very slender, usually so for this type of wrap. There are many capes but even these are of the straight variety and not at all ample. The Russian blouse style is in evidence, although a bit unusual for a motor or traveling coat.

New Neckline Treatment in Coats.

Since the outside is so gay, linings, by way of contrast, are somewhat somber. Black crepe de chine frequently is used for this purpose, or the duldest shade of the plaid is selected.

In most instances sleeves are long and flowing. Bell sleeves may in turn have bell cuffs, perhaps double cuffs of this sort.

Madeleine et Madeleine cannot resist introducing their very low waistline even in coats. In the model "Dans le Train" inverted box plaits are the method by which this pronouncedly low waistline is defined.

Collars are high, although the shawl collar also is used. The high collars all spring from a low base. That is, the neckline is considerably cut out so that the collar starts far out on the shoulders and comes up in a muffling sort of way about the ears.

With materials showing so much action in the way of design little trimming is needed, but we still see fringes used, although they are applied in new ways, being in little patches or clusters rather than in rows.

Originates Continental Manteau.

Patou, the man tailor who is enjoying a great following in Paris, is selling very successfully at the present time his model called "Tipperary," English as to its name, although made of a French fabric interwoven with all the soul-stirring bars of the Scottish clans. The model hangs straight front and back, with what little fullness there is massed on the hips just at the point where the sleeves join the body of the coat. The collar is straight and muffling. The sleeves are bell shaped.

Agnes has a successful model called Pallasse, also developed in a plaid wool tissue. It is in Russian blouse style and also has the high collar and large bell sleeves. A fancy Rodier material woven and embroidered in green and yellow plaid was chosen for it.

The same maker has brought out a coat of a slightly more dressy type made of blue repp and trimmed with elaborate embroideries, facings of white broadcloth and a black silk fringe, which latter falls from the sleeve motifs and edges the ends of the skirt.

Another popular model of this latter type from Agnes is developed from black crepe Marocain with collar and cuffs of white taffeta. The embroidered motifs are in black, and suspended from these, at well spaced intervals, are bands of black silk fringe.

LANGUAGE SPOKEN BY FEW

Vagrants in East End of London Use an Ancient Celtic Tongue Among Themselves.

Shelta Thart is a language used secretly among people of the tinker class and principally to be met with in Scotland and Ireland. Its use was first discovered and made known in 1876 by Charles K. Leland, an American antiquarian, and Prof. John Sampson of Liverpool. One day, while walking by the seashore at Aberystwyth, they encountered a tramp who addressed them in an unknown tongue. Both were versed in the Romany or gypsy language and were much surprised to meet one who spoke a tongue of which they knew not a word.

They collected a number of phrases from this man and found on inquiry that he had acquired this strange speech from his wife, who was a tinker. The tinkers, he said, kept their knowledge of the language a secret, speaking it only among themselves. Later Leland encountered many other persons who spoke Shelta. He found that in many of the drinking places in the East end of London, where vagrants often congregate, the language was freely employed, but that when an outsider made his appearance, it ceased at once to be spoken. Scientific methods applied to the study of Shelta proved that it is no mere system of back slang or cant, but an ancient Celtic speech.

Romany, the language of the English gypsies, is still spoken by a large number of persons. Among the majority of them it has become corrupt, but the older gypsy folk still speak what is known as "deep" Romany, that is, the gypsy language in its pure state.

The dialect of Shetland, although its grammar is Lowland Scotch, is very largely Norse and as spoken by the Shetlanders among themselves is scarcely understandable by the average Scotsman. On the Isle of Man, a Celtic tongue different from Gaelic or Welsh is still used by a number of the inhabitants.

OZONE AND THE SAND MAN

The Two Are Quite Closely Related, Though Probably Few People Could Tell How.

People who spend their vacations at the seashore at this time of the year usually find that their nights are dreamless and restful.

They say that the sea air makes them sleep. Wheeled along in a beach chair, one is likely to feel drowsy or even go to sleep.

It is the ozone in the air that does it. The air at the seashore is full of ozone, which might be called a concentrated oxygen. Ozone is a powerful and healthful stimulant.

Whence, by the way, comes the nursery idea of the Sand Man, herald of sleep?

The answer is that the approach of sleep checks the flow from the eardrums which keeps the eyes moist. There results a dryness and slight discomfortableness of the lids, causing one to rub the eyes. The Sand Man has come, and it is time to go to bed.—Philadelphia Record.

No True Century Plant.

There are no true century plants in the sense that it takes them a hundred years to bloom. A number of plants, however, do not bloom until they have lived for a long term of years. The classic example of such plants is the tall palm of India which lives for 50 years or more and becomes a tall tree before it blooms. After it has sent up its immense flower-stalk the whole plant dies.

Our American "century plants" often fruit at the end of eight or ten years under natural conditions, but in the house they may refuse to bloom at all. Many of the bamboos act like the century plants and bloom but once after a long period of vegetation. Such species are known as monocarpic plants.

LIVE STOCK NEWS

DISTRIBUTE 130 PURE BULLS

Animals Intended for Breeding Purposes in Different Communities in Kentucky.

Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.

The first of the "better-gires" sales held in Kentucky this year resulted in the sale of 130 purebred bulls. These animals are being distributed through the state and will be used for breeding purposes. In describing the sale, Wayland Rhoads of the extension division, University of Kentucky, stated in a letter to the United States Department of Agriculture that "much improvement will come from it."

Type of Bull Used to Build Up Herds in Kentucky.

Notwithstanding the present excellence of much of the live stock in the state, Kentucky farmers are welcoming the opportunity to obtain, at reasonable prices, purebred sires of superior type. Additional sales are to be held.

VERY FEW REAL RUNTS BORN

Undersized and Unthrifty Animals Are Generally Result of Inadequate Feed and Care.

Emphasizing that runty live stock are generally the result of inadequate feed, housing and care, the editor of a farm paper in the Central West adds to the experiences which nearly 1,000 farmers have already reported to the United States Department of Agriculture on the subject of runt prevention. "There are very few real runts born," he declares. "They may be a little undersized, perhaps a trifle weaker and sometimes of inferior constitution, brought on by improper breeding systems. But poor housing, limited range, getting rooted away and cheated by the larger and buskier of the litter—these are the agencies by which most so-called runts are formed. Given proper care and feed until they get a start, the runts will prove money-makers."

These comments agree closely with the opinions of others who contributed their experiences in the matter to the department. Particular care needs to be given live stock at weaning time, since this is the time when the dams fail to give the nourishment required by the growing animal and when the young stock is learning to eat other feed.

WAY OF RAISING MULE COLTS

Best Plan Is to Put Them on Feed After Weaning and Never Retard Best Growth.

The older way of raising mules was to turn them out at weaning time and practically let them rough it until three years old, then get them up, wild as deer, for a shearing and then either span them out to break or put them in the pen for fattening as unbroken stuff. Nowadays the mule colt is put on feed almost before weaning and is never allowed to stop his growing until he is ready for the harness, which time is reached a year sooner by the new method than by the old. The mule at two is a good work animal, but care must be taken not to overdo him at that age, and it is best not to put a two-year-old in as a "regular" until he is well accustomed to the work, better still, don't crowd the youngster until he is three, when he will have attained quite a bit of that strength and grit that makes him the marvel of the working world.

FEEDING NEW CORN TO HOGS

Give Few Stalks Just as Plant Reaches Advanced Milk Stage, Gradually Increasing Amount.

A good way to accustom hogs to the new corn is to cut a few stalks of corn and throw it over the fence to the hogs just as it reaches the advanced milk stage, gradually increasing the amount until in 10 or 12 days, when the corn is well dented, the hogs are getting a full feed. Even then, it is necessary to watch them closely to see that none get off feed because of digestive trouble.

SILO PAYS LARGE DIVIDENDS

Stands as Sentinel to Successful Cropping and Efficient Feeding—More Are Needed.

The silo has been the difference between success and failure on many farms where cows, beef cattle or sheep are kept. The silo stands as a sentinel to successful cropping and efficient feeding. It should be a monument to thrift and progressive husbandry on more farms. Why not ensile your corn and carry your cattle or sheep through the winter economically?

ENCOURAGING NEWS FROM BONDURANT

Casing for Roney, Mitchell & Bruce Test Well Has Arrived.

News from the well being drilled at Bondurant by Roney, Mitchell & Bruce is everything that can be expected. The load of casing has arrived and most of the preliminary arrangements have been completed in putting the casing down. It is believed that the actual drilling will be resumed before the week is gone and that the greatest oil producing formation will soon be encountered. Men of experience believe that a cap rock 1200 feet thick and which shows as this one did at the last few feet drilled, will show something big when the rock is finally penetrated. It is expected that the oil sand will be reached soon after drilling is resumed and a few more feet are added to the present depth of the well. The depth as indicated by many geologists has almost been attained.

A casual glance at the map of the United States will show that there is a gap between the oil fields of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, and Southern Illinois and the great fields of Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas with this section of the country occupying the center of the undeveloped territory.

Chinook Language.

The Chinook language is a jargon of Indian, French, English and other words, named after the Chinook Indians of the Columbia river in the state of Washington and in British Columbia. It was once much used by traders and Indians in that region, but is now nearly abandoned. Gill's "Dictionary of Chinook Jargon" was published in Portland, Ore., in 1891, and Boas' "Chinook Texts" in the Smithsonian report of the bureau of ethnology at Washington in 1894.

CALOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose May Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism.

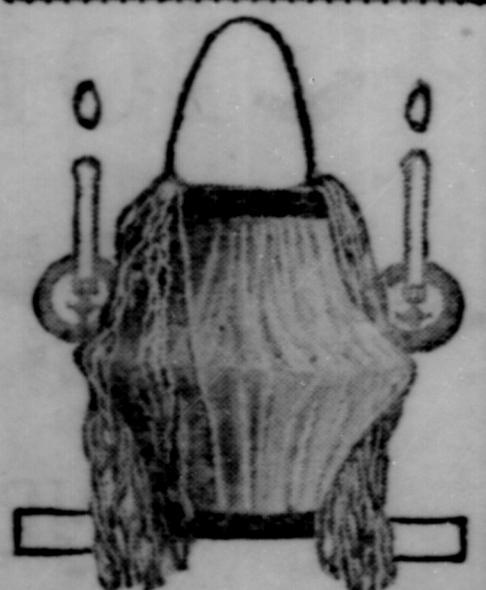

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tone straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children, because it is perfectly harmless and cannot salivate.

Christmas Decorations

One of the easiest ways for dressing up the house at holiday time is to make lamp, candle and electric light shades or lanterns of crepe or tissue paper and tinsel. To make the small lantern pictured two rings of cardboard are covered with plain black or gold paper pasted over them. A length of light green tissue paper is folded along the center, slashed into narrow strips and pasted inside the rings. Under this a length of rose-colored crepe paper narrower than the green is pasted; this causes the strips of green paper to spread and stand out. Silver tinsel hangs from the wire handle at each side.

LEFT FOR BATON ROUGE.

Capt. Lawrence McMakin left on Thursday of last week for Baton Rouge, La., where he has accepted a position with the Standard Oil Company on their barge line. Capt. McMakin has been a resident of Hickman for the past ten years, coming here first as Captain and Master of the old Steamer Mengel Box Company and after that boat sank and the Exporter was purchased, he took charge of that boat of which he has been Master and Captain since. Mrs. McMakin will leave in the next two weeks and join the Captain at Baton Rouge, where they will make their future home. Capt. and Mrs. McMakin have made many friends in this city are excellent citizens and it is with the greatest regret that we see them go. Capt. McMakin will have charge of one of the steamers of the Standard Oil Company used to tow oil from Baton Rouge to New Orleans for export and is a splendid position. They sold their home on last Thursday to Capt. and Mrs. H. L. Slade, who will move into same as soon as Mrs. McMakin has the furniture shipped.
